Revised August 2019

Catechesis

Catechesis is sharing the teachings of Jesus Christ in such a way that the believer comes to know God, believe in Him and his teachings, and enter into a deeper and transformative relationship with God. Catechesis involves the teaching of doctrine as well as the living practice of the faith. Catechizing and being catechized are lifelong responsibilities for every Catholic.

Catechesis seeks to: promote knowledge of the faith; promote knowledge of the meaning of the Liturgy and Sacraments; promote moral formation in Jesus Christ; teach Christians how to pray with Christ; prepare Christians to live in community and participate actively in the life and mission of the Church; foster a missionary spirit that prepares the faithful to be present as Christians in society.

Called to be a Catechist

The ministry of catechist is a vocation, an interior call of the Holy Spirit. It springs from the Sacrament of Baptism and is strengthened by the Sacrament of Confirmation. Catechists need to be practicing Catholics who participate fully in the communal worship and life of the Church, and who have been prepared for their apostolate by appropriate catechetical training.

Catechists are called to holiness. A catechist should be characterized by a love of God and a life of faith, hope and love that manifests itself in daily prayer. Catechists are marked by an apostolic spirit and missionary zeal, a love for their brothers and sisters through generous service, and a life devoted to the Eucharist and Mary.

All the baptized are called to participate in the catechetical ministry. Some are called to more specific catechetical roles. Bishops are primarily responsible for catechesis. Priests share the teaching role of the Bishop and are his immediate collaborators. Catechists assist bishops and priests in the catechetical mission.

All Archdiocesan elementary school administrators, teachers, and directors of religious education and catechists are considered catechists and fall to this policy.

Catechetical Formation

In order to present the Catholic faith in its fullness and in a way that is attractive, those who catechize need preparation and ongoing formation. Catechist formation must ensure that catechists receive assistance in developing their knowledge of the faith and the Gospel message as well as the ability to transmit it.

Catechetical Formation involves intellectual, spiritual, pastoral and human dimensions. It promotes: an understanding of the nature and goals of catechesis; knowledge and understanding of Catholic faith and practice; familiarity with resources; awareness of methodologies associated with the social, cultural, ethnic, demographic and religious circumstances of people who are served; ongoing study of scripture and theology; growth in human, spiritual and pastoral qualities necessary for the work of a catechist; unity with pastors and the Church where all authentic religious education occurs.

Catechetical Certification Policy Requirements

Certification is earned upon completion of 16 credits:

- Orientation Credit: one (1) credit
- Core Courses Credits: eight (8) credits
- Elective Credits: seven (7) credits.
